1,000 Citizens Plan for Banco Fight Tonight

ARRAY OF COUNSEL TO ASSIST BOYKIN TO BE ANNOUNCED

Twenty-Five Witnesses Summoned Before Grand Jury Today and Documents Are Demanded.

BOYKIN IS PREPARING FOR COUNCIL PROBE

Important Piece of Documentary Evidence, in the Form of a Letter Has Been Furnished Solicitor.

Chief interest in the probe of conditions surrounding gambling and alleged corruption in city government circles centers in the big mass meeting of men known to be deeply concerned with the maintenance of clean government which will be held tonight at the instance of John A. Manget and a citizens' committee, pledged to aid in the searching jury into conditions alleged to exist in the city.

Solicitor Boykin Monday was still hard at work with the grand jury investigation of the gigantic bunco organization and with the preparation of details of evidence to be presented in the councilmanic probe. It is understood that an exceedingly important piece of documentary evidence, in the form of a letter, signed and regular in every way, now in the hands of the solicitor general. Though Mr. Boykin declined to divulge details of this communication, he indicated that its contents were of a startling nature and would aid in substantiating the statements he has made.

At least twenty-five witnesses have been summoned to appear before the Fulton county grand jury Tuesday morning, and at least two of them have been served with subpoenas duces tecum to produce certain documents which may contain valuable evidence for the jury in its investigation of gambling conditions in Atlanta. The jury was in session all morning Monday, and examined a number of witnesses. In all probability the jurors will convene every day this week and continue investigation of the operations of the swindlers.

Will Announce Lawyers.

While plans are being perfected for the mass meeting at the Piedmont hotel at 3 o'clock Tuesday night to consider all angles of the case and to announce the array of legal talent which will participate in the councilmanic probe, Solicitor Boykin and Walter A. Sims, chairman of the council probe committee, are meeting in readiness for the hearing, which is expected to begin by the latter part of the week.

It was announced definitely Monday that "Swift" Klein will be one of the chief witnesses before the probing committee. He is new understand to be at his home in Anniston, Ala., where he went after being released on a bond reduced from the original $25,000 to $5,000. Solicitor Boykin said Monday that he was assured of Klein's return, this being the main condition on which he consented to a reduction of bond for the man, who is a confessed "con" man, having been under indictment on three counts for alleged complicity with the gang here headed by Floyd Woodward, and also having been under indictment for alleged participation in the killing of Ed Mills in the Ansley hotel two years ago.

It was suggested Monday by Councilman Sims, chairman of the investigating committee, that the city should bear the expenses of the witnesses who will travel here to give testimony in the case, Mr.

Charged With Killing Five of His Family, South Carolinian Appeals for New Trial.

Florence, S. C., March 28.—Edmund Bigham, charged with killing five members of his family at Pamlico over financial troubles, was convicted of murder by a jury here today and was sentenced to die in the electric chair at Columbia between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock, Friday, April 1.

After passing sentence, Judge R. W. Memminger, presiding, overruled a motion for a new trial and A. L. King, of counsel for the defense, announced he would appeal. Mr. King, in his plea for a new trial, asserted that previous to the trial one of the members of the jury had declared he would like to see Bigham burned. Mr. King had also asked for delay in arguing his motion for a new trial before Judge Memminger, but this was denied.

Bigham turned pale when the verdict was read and his face lost the smile that it had worn during the trial, but when asked what he had to say before being sentenced, he leaned forward from the dock and in a clear and unshaken voice, replied:

"Nothing; except that I am innocent. I know nothing of how that crime was committed. That is the truth, so help me God."

"That's all I have to say," continued Bigham, who was charged with shooting his mother, brother, sister and the latter's two adopted children. "I wish my mother could come down and tell how that thing happened. I wish that little boy had lived when I asked Dr. W. H. Poston to save his life. He would have told the same things my wife and I told."

Boston Landlords To Reap Benefit From Stork's Visit

New Leases Call for Automatic Rent Increase for Each Addition.

Boston, March 28.—Just when many people were getting accustomed to higher rents and becoming able to think of landlords without mental profanity, tenants in certain apartment houses were presented with leases containing the following clause:

"This apartment is rented for a family of — persons, and for each additional person in the family the rent shall automatically increase $10 per month."

To all intents and purposes, this is putting a fine on parents who have children, and aroused city and state officials were threatening Monday to take drastic action against landlords daring to insert such clauses. It is pointed out that a family presented with triplets in these apartments would be very much out of luck, though unjustly so, with a $30 rent increase.

Councillor Ford introduced an order Monday which the city council passed unanimously calling on the city's rent and housing committee to take the matter up with the corporation council.

Herbert Ellis, of the rent and housing committee, advised tenants not to sign the leases until legal advice had been obtained.

Revolutionary War Headquarters Once Home of Patrick Henry.

Richmond, Va., March 28.—A tenant is wanted to occupy the building in this city which was used by General George Washington during his occupancy of Richmond in the revolutionary war, according to a rental agent's sign, which was placed on the house today. While many houses here are claimed to have been headquarters of the father of his country, this one has the support of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Colonial Dames and other revolutionary war patriotic societies.

It was in this building that Patrick Henry roomed while studying law. It stands on East Main street and has for years been a semi-public museum occupied by a watchmaker and curio dealer.

FEDERAL HOSPITAL FOR EX-SOLDIERS TO BE ENLARGED

Senator Harris Hopes to Get at Least $1,000,000 for U. S. Public Health Institution Here.

ADDITION WILL GIVE 500 BED CAPACITY

Several Thousand Former Veterans Are Now on Waiting List in Southeastern District.

The United States Public Health hospital in Atlanta employed at present not only as one of the general hospitals for the treatment of sick and wounded ex-service men, but also a clearing house for the southeastern headquarters of the government's public health service, will probably be quadrupled in size in the near future under the provisions of the hospital appropriation item in the sundry civil bill passed just before congress adjourned on March 4.

The hospital appropriation for the United States, for additions and improvements to soldier hospitals already owned by the government, was $18,500,000. This item having been secured in the sundry civil bill by Senator Harris, of Georgia, when the bill reached the upper house. In that provision ten hospitals throughout the country were specified, the Atlanta public health institution being one of them. When the bill went back to the house for conference, in the last hours of the session, it was deemed wise by that body to eliminate all mention of the specific hospitals to be improved and enlarged, hence the appropriation was made, leaving it to the discretion of the public health department as to the specific disbursements for enlargements.

Plan Enlargement.

Senator Harris was in the meantime informed by the department that the enlargement of the Atlanta plant to one of the leading institutions of the kind in America was not only contemplated but would be made, the government now owning in fee simple the Atlanta plant.

Looking to this development, therefore, Senator Harris, who was in Atlanta Monday, en route from north Georgia to central and southern Georgia, spent the afternoon at the Atlanta plant, accompanied by Major Lightner, executive officer of the Fifth district division of the public health service, which is also located in Atlanta.

On his visit the senator not only talked with the inmates, but also made a thorough inspection of the institution and the ground, with a view to discussing with the department the enlargements to be made upon his return to Washington.

One of the most magnificent man-made plants of the kind I have visited," said the senator, "and the boys who are under treatment here could not speak too highly of Major W. C. Sheely, the medical officer in charge, and the remainder of the staff, and of the excellent attention given to the inmates. Few people realize how that the government owns and maintains this large and exceptionally well-equipped institution in Atlanta, one of the finest plants in the Fifth district. It is now a 100-bed capacity plant and was hope, out of the $18,500,000 for hospital development, to get not less than $1,000,000 for Atlanta, so that a 400-bed capacity, including the necessary auxiliary appointments, may be added, giving the completed plant a capacity of 500 beds, which will make it one of the largest in the United States."

Many Ex-Service Men.

In the southeastern district there are today several thousand ex-service men in the hospitalization waiting lists, the government not having sufficient capacity to care for the demand. Several hospitals are being operated in this district, most of them, however, in leased buildings with only temporary and unsatisfactory conditions. This is the reason that the appropriation was made for enlarging the government-owned plants so that no patient should lack the full and adequate facilities, including light, air, sanitation, equipment, etc., that are provided in the government-owned plants.

U. S. TO BE GAINER BY COURT RULING TO DEFINE INCOME

Gain From Corporate Securities, Corporate Assets or Realized Increase in Investment Value Ruled Taxable.

DECISION TO SETTLE MANY PENDING CASES

Hearings Advanced on Three Other Important Tax Problems—Amount Involved Unknown.

Washington, March 28.—Three sweeping victories were won by the government today in the supreme court interpretation of the term "income" for the assessment of taxes under the income and excess profit act.

The court held that any gain derived from corporate securities, or corporate assets, and any increase in the value of a capital investment, when realized, is taxable as income. In each case the opinion was introduced by the entire court.

Solicitor General Frierson, who was present to hear the opinions read, interpreted them as unholding in every particular, the contentions of the government. He believed elimination of problems involved in the case decided today would go far toward relieving the treasury department of inconveniences it has suffered as a result of multi-angled tax litigation facing it for the past year. No estimate could be obtained tonight as to the amount involved in each case affected by the court's action.

Hearings Advanced.

Apparently with a view of early clearing the docket of all important tax questions, the court before recessing until April 11, advanced the hearing of arguments in the insurance dividend case, the corporation reorganization case and the inheritance tax case. The first involves taxation of dividends applied as the partial payment to state employees premiums, the second applying a stock received from reorganization of a corporation—in this case the DuPont Powder company, and the last, whether inheritance taxes can be deducted from taxable income.

They "Key Case" selected by the court for decision today was an appeal from the decision of the Merchants' Loan and Trust company, as trustee of the estate of Arthur Ryerson, of Chicago, from decisions of Illinois courts upholding assessments levied by internal revenue officials upon profits realized through the sale of stock received from reorganization of the trust fund, which included in the trust fund were 9,500 shares of stock in Joseph T. Ryerson & Son, a corporation, which were valued at $561,000 on March 1, 1913, but which were sold in 1917 for $1,680,000. Collection of a tax on the difference in value between the stock as received and the date of sale, as income, was upheld by the court in the decision rendered today.

Word Defined.

The word "income" was defined by the supreme court in a case under the corporate income tax act of 1909. Justice Clark said, as "a gain derived from capital, from labor or from other combined."

"This definition, frequently approved by this court," the opinion continued, "received an addition in the income tax act of 1913, which was significant in its application in such a case as we have here. The definition was then to read: 'Income may be defined as a gain derived from capital, from labor or from both combined, provided it be understood to include profits gained through sale or conversion of capital assets.'"

"It is obvious that unless this definition be modified it rules the case at bar, and notwithstanding the arguments heard in this case we are entirely satisfied with that definition. Since the fund so taxed was the amount realized from the sale of stock in 1917, less the capital investment as of March 1, 1913, it is palpable that it was a 'gain or profit,' produced by or derived from the sale of capital assets, and became the 'realized gain' which has been repeatedly declared to be taxable income within the meaning of the constitutional amendment and the act of congress."

Contention Dismissed.

The opinion quickly dismissed a contention that the word "income" as used in the 16th amendment did not include the gain realized by a single transaction but only profits realized by one engaged in buying and selling as a business.

"It is sufficient to say of this contention," the court ruled, "that no such distinction was recognized

APPEALS FOR PAY RAISES DISMISSED BY LABOR BOARD

Board Refuses Increased Wages to Workers on Sixty-Seven 'Short Lines' Throughout Country.

MANY GEORGIA LINES AFFECTED BY RULING

Employees and Roads Have Right to Continue on Conferences on Wages and Conditions.

Chicago, March 28.—The United States railway labor board today dismissed appeals for increased wages filed with it last fall by fifteen railway labor unions against the board's ruling that the "short lines" throughout the country.

Shirley lines which accepted for their men the terms of the $600,000,000 wage award of last July will not be privileged to go back to the old scale, under today's action, however the announcement of the board says.

"This decision shall not be considered as affecting any wage increase now in effect nor any agreement regarding wages between any of the carriers and their employees," the board said.

The board's decision affects approximately four thousand employees. The railroads involved are in general remote from large cities and provide service for small communities located in nearly every state. Because of the varying kinds of work performed by the employees the board declared it found it "impracticable to decide on the evidence submitted what are reasonable wages for the varying work under infinitely varying conditions," by the employees.

The decision points out that there are under consideration by the board several hundred grievances which should be determined by the boards of adjustments if such boards were in existence. It also pointed out the diverse kinds of work done by the employees was unclassified, and therefore that it actually was impossible to understate the need for standardization of rules upon which to base a wage award.

A general rules and working hearing affecting the trunk lines of the country is before the board. No set rule, however, has yet been applied uniformly to the short lines. The board declared it was "impracticable" to determine what reasonable rules shall be in effect on the short lines until the question of reasonable rules and working conditions on the standard railroads has been disposed of.

May Still Confer.

Representatives of the carriers and the employees are still given the right to confer as to wages and working conditions under the board's decision.

Representatives of fifteen employees' organizations are among the 4,000 men affected by the decision. The carriers are the employees belonging to all fifteen unions are involved on the same road, but on the larger part of the roads only a few classes of employees come under the board's decision for the reason that the board's decision affects only those in whose behalf a dispute was brought to the board.

Among the railroads involved in the decision are:

Some Roads Involved.

REVOLT RUNS RED IN AREA OCCUPIED BY ALLIED TROOPS

Communists Control Railroads Running From Dusseldorf, City Recently Seized by Allies.

FOURTEEN MEN KILLED IN FIGHT AT ESSEN

Safety Police Oppose Revolutionaries in Five Cities—American Troops Rush to Restore Order.

BY JOHN GRAUDENZ, United News Staff Correspondent.

Berlin, March 28.—Red revolt, which the government had apparently considered crushed in central Germany, has flamed up through the Ruhr district and is running wild through the territory now held by the allied troops of occupation.

Battles have been fought in five cities of this zone, between the safety police and armed communists. Fourteen men were killed at Essen and forty-six were wounded. Numerous deaths are reported from Dortmund.

The communists are now in control of the railway lines running from Dusseldorf—one of the three cities seized under the recent decision of the allied council at London—to Cologne and to Elberfeld.

Martial law has been declared at Dusseldorf and Muenster.

The affected cities are Essen, home of the great Krupp gun works; Mettemann, Velbert, Herborn and Dortmund, the most serious centers taking place in the first named city.

Berlin is still quiet, but the population and government are apprehensive. The police have established a war-time regime at Halle, where they have twice arrested American correspondents who were trying to send messages to their newspapers in English. No person is permitted to talk over the telephone in anything but German, and the eye of suspicion is cast on all foreigners.

Communists in the west of Germany, according to the opinion of observers, probably will prove far more difficult to handle than those of central Germany, who scattered before the police and safety troops.

AMERICAN M. P.'S RUSHED TO RIOT SCENE.

Coblenz, March 28.—A communist uprising occurred this morning in the American bridgehead area, at Montabaur, six miles northeast of Ehrenbreitstein. A riot call was answered by the provost marshal, and American military police were dispatched to Montabaur to restore order.

DISARMED.

Berlin, March 28.—The rioting activities in the communist uprising in central Germany are continuing now on Bitterfeld, where the extremists have succeeded in disarming the local police and occupying the public buildings, according to an official communiqué issued shortly before noon today. During Sunday, the communist leaders, said to be the bank and the post office at Sangerhausen and put the local telegraph office out of commission.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—dark spots look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

KEY APPOINTED HEAD OF PLANNING BOARD

City Planning Expert Will Be Employed by Atlanta Commission.

Mayor James L. Key was named to head the city planning commission as permanent chairman at a meeting of that body Monday morning. Dr. R. H. Oils was elected executive secretary. Another feature of the meeting was the decision to engage the services of a city planning expert to advise on plans to improve the physical aspects of Atlanta.

City Council has appropriated the sum of $10,000 for the work of the commission during the current year. A portion of this amount will be spent on plans for the general development of the city, and a committee composed of Joel Hurt, Charles A. Wickham and P. T. Terry, was appointed to submit recommendations as to the expert to be employed.

The viaduct, which is to be built with $750,000, a portion of the bond issue proceeds, was discussed at the meeting. No definite action was taken on the viaduct project, Charles A. Wickham and Joel Hurt, two members of the commission, stated that before they will favor the bridge, as now proposed, they will have to be offered convincing proof of the advantages of the project.

Big Opium Haul Made by Police In Savannah Raid

Savannah, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—Members of the local plain clothes force discovered in the Atlantic Coast Line railway station tonight what they declare to be the biggest haul of opium ever shipped through Savannah and are holding, pending investigation by the federal authorities. David Schwartz, aged 26, and Morris Rosenbloom, aged 25, both claiming New York as their home. It is declared that two steamer trunks searched by officers equipped with a federal search warrant contained between thirty and forty thousand dollars worth of opium when the large trunks and were said to be packed with the drug.

Formal hearings will be given the men Tuesday. They had their trunks checked through to New York and were intending to leave tonight, they said. They had been in this city for several days. Detectives on the lookout for possible clues to the two slayers of Patrolman Larlow here last night were attracted by the presence of the two men, and they obtained a search warrant for a probe into their luggage as now proposed, they allege, that the drug was found.

PRICE PREPARING REPORT FOR USE IN RATE DECISION

E. M. Price, rate expert of the Georgia railroad commission, returned Monday from a tour of the coal fields of Kentucky, Tennessee and Alabama, where he made an investigation of contracts open to public utility plants. He also visited a number of the large mines of the north to obtain information to be used by the commission in reaching decisions on gas and electric lighting rates in Georgia.

Alleged Master Crackman Charged With Taking Charge of Postoffice Truck and Getting $65,000 Bonds.

What promises to be one of the most important trials of the present session of the United States district court was begun at 10 o'clock Monday morning when Thomas Donahue, alleged master crackman and confidence man, was arraigned before a jury for his alleged perpetration of one of Atlanta's most daring holdups.

On the night of June 15, 1920, a postoffice truck was held up at the corner of Hunter and Forsyth streets and robbed of registered mail containing approximately $65,000 in bonds, a large part of which has not been recovered. Donahue was subsequently arrested in New York, and charged with being the bandit.

Forty witnesses, some of whom reside in New York and other distant cities, have been subpoenaed for the trial, which is expected to consume at least two more days. More than half of the witnesses will testify by deposition.

Alibi May Be Offered.

It was stated Monday that the defendant, who is represented by Attorney William C. Howard, will attempt to establish an alibi which would prove that he was not even in the state of Georgia on the night of the crime.

The first witness heard Monday was P. W. Winer, a night clerk, who was in charge of the mail truck. He was followed by James W. Craig, a negro who was driving the machine for Winer. Court adjourned Monday afternoon while the driver was in the midst of his testimony.

Widener positively identified Donahue as being the man who boarded the mail truck as it slowed up to turn from Forsyth street into Hunter street, and commanded both the occupants, at the point of guns, to take the truck and its load to an isolated spot at the beyond West End, and then rifled the sacks, removing from them the valuable articles.

According to Widener's statement, which was corroborated by Craig's testimony, Donahue informed them, when he climbed onto the truck, that he was a government officer, and would produce his credentials. With that, it was testified, he drew a revolver from one pocket, and an automatic from another, and placed them against the ribs of the two men.

Drove to Outskirts.

Following Donahue's instructions, Craig and Widener testified they drove several miles beyond the city limits. Arriving in a secluded place, they stated, Donahue banded them hand and foot, and then robbed the sacks and left.

The negro, it was claimed, succeeded in obtaining a pocket knife from his pocket and, with the assistance of Widener, soon had himself free, and in turn freed Widener. They then returned to the postoffice and reported the holdup.

Attorney Howard attempted to shake Widener's positive identification of his client, but Widener maintained he was not mistaken.

Some of the stolen bonds were recently recovered in Philadelphia. It was stated by postoffice inspectors. They express the belief that they had been disposed of there by a confederate.

PLAN REORGANIZATION OF OLD HORSE GUARD

A movement has been started for the reorganization of the old Governor's Horse Guard, which was known as Troop L of the national guard at the time it was mustered into service at the outbreak of the war. It was stated that the regular number of men required for reorganization is fifty, and almost enough men have already signed to make up that number.

At a recent meeting when organization of the guard was taken up, Mayor Key promised the troop that he would do all he could to have the city take over the Piedmont Park stables for quarters for horses, and stated that the municipal government would do anything possible to assist in the movement.

It was stated that men forming the guard will be permitted the use of the horses for riding purposes at any time, and will be paid for each day of drill. The government is to furnish feed for the horses, feed them and furnish men to care for them. The troop will furnish equipment for the troops.

Recruiting headquarters for the reorganization are located at 718 Hurt building, and all who are interested in the movement have been requested to have their names sent to the office.

Just From Georgia

By FRANK L. STANTON.

"Sundown."

In the issue announcing the death of Bert Taylor, his famous "Line-o-Type or Two," column appeared black-bordered and blank. Elsewhere in the Chicago Tribune reprinted this poem of his, entitled "Sundown":

"When my sun of life is low,

When the shadows creep,

Say for me before I go,

Now I lay me down to sleep."

I am at the journey's end,

I have seen and I must rest;

There are no more ways to mend—

Now I lay me down to sleep."

Nothing more to doubt or dare,

Nothing more to give or keep;

Say for me the children's prayer,

Now I lay me down to sleep."

"Who has learned along the way—

Primrose path or stony steep—

More of wisdom than to say,

Now I lay me down to sleep."

"What have you more wise to tell

When the shadows round me creep—

All is over, all is well—

Now I lay me down to sleep."

*****

The Intelligent Fish.

"There are many things mortal man cannot understand," says Editor McIntosh, in his Albany Herald, as, for instance—

"Why two men will sit side by side on the same bank of a stream,

Use the same sort of hook, line, cork and sinker, take bait out of the same can, fish at the same depth and swap places half a dozen times in the course of an afternoon, at the end of which one man will have ten pounds of fish and the other will have nothing but a case of sour disposition. The explanation, we have been told, is in the fact that a fish has some way of knowing whether a hook was baited by a real fisherman or a novice."

Give Life a Song.

I.

Trouble may give you no warning—

Meets you in every place,

But still tell the world good morning—

With a smiling face.

Beat still it is, as you journey along,

To leave out the sighing and give life a song.

II.

The birds in the blossoms singing

Have sorrows of their own,

But they thrill to God's o'er the rose-decked sod—

Seldom a sorrowful tone.

Take you the lesson life's pathway along—

Leave out the sighing and give life a song.

Literature's Loss, Home's Gain.

"One of our local authors," says the Atlanta Enterprise, "has been house-cleaning. He has set fire to his latest (intended) contributions to the literature of our country, bought a new mule and plowstock, and has gone to work right. His action will be a loss to literature, but a help to home."

According to State Superintendent

Brittain, there are other counties in Georgia that, hard run for money, are likewise contemplating a

"lockout" against their rural school children.

Some means should be devised whereby to prevent such a course.

Boys and girls are any com-

THE HORSE GUARD.

The movement to reorganize and rejuvenate the military unit formerly known as the Governor's

Horse Guard, which officially constituted Troop L, National Guard of Georgia, deserves all the encouragement and assistance that may be necessary to carry it to success.

In the mobilizing of the American army following our entrance into the world war this military organization lost its identity, but many of its former members—

among whom are a large number of men of prominence in Atlanta's business and civic affairs—are making an effort to restore the company to its former position of useful service to the community.

Under the plan of reorganization of the militia, Georgia is allotted three troops of horse guard.

Two of those have been recruited, and at Atlanta does not raise the third some other Georgia city will, as it is understood that several communities are eager to do&lt;/

SCHOOLS CLOSED IN DEKALB COUNTY

Action Is Taken Because of Lack of Funds to Pay Teachers—Reopen Early in Fall.

For lack of available funds, the spring term of the DeKalb county schools was recently ordered closed by the board of education, the first time in two months earlier than the usual closing.

After a careful investigation, it was found that only a small part of the state fund and none of the local fund would be available before the last of the year, and that loans could not be secured to pay the teachers.

Not desiring to attempt to operate the schools by asking the teachers to wait until December and January for their salaries, the board recently gave the order for the closing, with the hope that funds might be secured to reopen all the schools early in the fall.

The term just closed opened early last September. The schools throughout the county had the largest attendance in the history of the county. The enrollment was about 13,000, and 125 teachers were employed. Reports from the various teachers indicate that the schools are being closed in good condition. All pupils who had not done enough work to be promoted will be given a chance to finish the work the first month of the fall term.

The school fund for the county this year will be about $20,000. The state appropriation is $30,000 and the local tax $50,000. The schools were in operation three months of this year, and yet less than $3,000 are available to pay the expenses. The schools closed last week.

STORES ENTERED, BUT ROBBERS GET LITTLE FOR WORK

The robbery of the Greenwood pharmacy, at 188 Highland avenue, was discovered by patrolmen on the morning watch early Monday morning. The safe was cracked by the thieves, and approximately $175 in money taken, in addition to several articles of merchandise.

The crashing of plate-glass windows in the establishment of the Dobbs & Wey chinaware store, at 57 South Pryor street, was the result of a burglary. The thieves entered the store, broke through the plate-glass windows and carried off a quantity of goods.

Others sustaining loss from robberies Sunday night and early Monday morning, according to reports made to the police, were B. A. Perry, who conducts a grocery store at Jones avenue and Gray street, about $15 in pennies were taken from this place by the robbers.

J. E. Campbell's residence, at 1288 Marietta street, was broken into by burglars as the family was asleep last Sunday night, or early Monday morning, and a valuable watch and other personal belongings to Mr. Campbell were taken, as well as several dollars in cash.

HOME DESTROYED AND FAMILY NEAR DEATH IN FLAMES

Defective wiring in the basement of the residence of Sam Dunlap, 186 Atwood street, is believed to have caused a blaze which early Monday morning practically destroyed his dwelling and did considerable damage to two adjoining buildings—the home of J. M. Ray, at 185 Atwood street, and that of G. C. Holcomb, at 170 Hopkins street.

All members of the Dunlap family were sound asleep when Mr. Dunlap was awakened by the smoke. He opened the door leading into the hall when volumes of smoke poured into the bedroom, which almost strangled him.

Although a record run was made by the fire department, the flames had progressed sufficiently to envelop the whole house, spreading rapidly to that of Ray, Mr. Dunlap's next-door neighbor, and from there to the Holcomb home, where considerable roof damage was done.

$8,550,000 BOND ISSUE CASE WILL BE ARGUED TODAY

On account of the illness of Judge George L. Bell, the hearing on the rule which requires the city of Atlanta to show cause why Walter R. Brown, as claimant, should not be heard in his intervention to contest the validation of the city's $8,550,000 bond issue, was postponed from Monday until Tuesday.

An order was passed Saturday by Judge Bell at the instance of James L. Mason and Jesse M. Wood, city attorneys, validating the issue of the $8,550,000 bond. The order was signed by the judge, and the city's attorneys, R. B. Blackburn, secured the judge's signature to the order. The judge agreed to hear the matter Monday, but will hold the hearing Tuesday instead.

Officials of the company stated that a man by the name of Beade purchased a suit of clothes from them about a year ago, giving as payment a check on a bank in Dallas, Texas, which was cashed by the company, but no further information from the company was obtainable.

COURSES IN LIFE INSURANCE URGED FOR UNIVERSITIES

Courses in life insurance salesmanship, to form part of the regular instruction offered by universities, were advocated by Orville Thorp, president of the National Association of Life Insurers, at the sales congress of Georgia life underwriters Monday, and the Ansley hotel. He predicted that the time was surely coming when all salesmen of life insurance policies would be graduates of such courses.

Dr. K. G. Matheson, president of Georgia Tech, outlined the course of such instruction offered under his direction, and suggested that a report be made for support for the Greater Georgia Tech fund. The 200 life insurance writers present voted unanimously to endorse the campaign for $4,000,000 for the purpose.

That payment of life and old age insurance policies in monthly installments, rather than in lump sums, is better both for the beneficiary and the paying company, and that such a policy should be encouraged, was the message delivered by Chas. W. Scovell, former president of the National Life Insurers. He said that companies now will make installment payments on request, and urged that this means of payment should be stimulated, as lump sum payments usually do not benefit the dependent for more than a few years.

"BLUE LAW" CRUSADE REPORTS ARE DENIED

A statement has been issued by officials of the Georgia Woman's Christian Temperance union contradicting the reports of northern newspapers that the national organization was conducting a campaign to force upon the country the so-called "blue laws," which was to be followed by a nationwide anti-tobacco crusade. It was explained that the C. T. U. has no connection with the proposed crusade of "blue laws."

Officials stated that the anti-tobacco crusade was not directed to adults, but for constructive education for boys and girls in its harmful effects, and any proposed legislation will be confined to protection for the young.

"Hoodooing" Charged To Old Negro Woman In South Carolina

York, S. C., March 23.—By means of practicing "hoodooing" and hypnotism, Violet Shaw, a 60-year-old negro, and her grandson, Otis Fawell, 14, obtained $2,500 during the last five months from Miss Margaret Thomas, a wealthy and aged woman of Ebneter, York county, according to county officials here tonight. The negro woman and her grandson were arrested and placed in jail here.

Mr. Walthall reached Atlanta at a matutinal hour when nothing but burglars are supposed to be about. He roused a somnolent red cap from his lethargy. The boy's rolling eyes took in the situation. With an energy unprecedented, he grabbed the tendered baggage. "Dare de kunnel of de Ku Kluxes," he roared, "I am de kunnel of de Ku Kluxes." He opened the trunk and he like the speaking stage as well as the movie screen, and all that.

Later Mr. Walthall elucidated his ideas on the subject of "hoodooing," he said, "spend probably fifty years of his life trying to convince the public that he could do something else than play Rip Van Winkle. The public, played, said, 'O yes, certainly, but we like you in Rip.'"

Mr. Corbett has been trying to be an actor for twenty-five years. He has been uniformly successful, but not as an actor. The managers have wanted him because he was once a heavyweight champion.

"I went backstage to the legitimate stage, believing that my temporary abandonment of the screen would give me a new lease on life. Perhaps permit the people to realize that I have done other things except the Little Colonel, and may possibly do something else in the future."

"We've been out for thirty weeks, and except when I am on the stage or right in the room with Mrs. Walthall, I am always the Colonel."

Back in Old Shelby. "When we reached the south, I decided to lay off for a while and visit my old home in Shelby county, Alabama. I told Mrs. Walthall that the people at Mallory station, where I was born and raised, would never give me credit for being an actor, movie or otherwise; that, to them, I would always be a particularly ordinary human being, and that too much sense and with an abnormal appetite."

"Our place is back in the sticks."

Little Colonel Haunts Walthall Shadows Actor Around Atlanta

BY FUZZY WOODRUFF.
Henry B. Walthall has spent the last eight months in an assiduous endeavor to prove that he isn't the Little Colonel of the "Birth of a Nation," and yesterday Atlanta proved to him that the task is as hopeless as that celebrated transformation act of the leopard who tried to show to the world he could change his spots.

Mr. Walthall reached Atlanta at a matutinal hour when nothing but burglars are supposed to be about. He roused a somnolent red cap from his lethargy. The boy's rolling eyes took in the situation. With an energy unprecedented, he grabbed the tendered baggage. "Dare de kunnel of de Ku Kluxes," he roared, "I am de kunnel of de Ku Kluxes." He opened the trunk and he like the speaking stage as well as the movie screen, and all that.

Dead men tell no tales. (Signed) "O. O. O." (Spinson was expressed by Mr. Loyless that no person in Atlanta knew of the communications he had with The Herald except those who handle the telegraph in the Western Union office, and that it would be an easy matter to trace the identity of the person who used the typewriters used by the Western Union. He has asked the telegraph authorities to investigate.)
